

Jamar Jones Bio

Jamar Jones, business owner, speaker, and author of the book, "Change Your Circle, Change Your Life," is a visionary who believes in leadership and subscribes to the notion that we can all connect with each other in a relatable way. From a thriving music career performing for thousands, to managing IT professionals, Jamar's experience inspired him to establish his own branding and media agency, Foureva Media. Now six years later and 11 employees strong, Jamar models consistency and a strong work ethic to his team. His desire to surround himself with good people who challenge him to excel every day is what excites and empowers him. Jamar is proud to serve others as a beacon for excellence; his philosophies and intentional action have changed the landscape of his life and the lives of others.
