

Go4it! Success Institute presents . . .

A live workshop presented by professional filmmakers for teens & young adults who want to tell their stories through film.

29 April 2023

10am - 3pm CST

NŌ STUDIOS - Milwaukee, WI

Society's view of reality is shaped through stories and narratives. The most enduring narratives are ones that are strategically conceived, creatively constructed and artfully presented. It follows that filmmaking is a most powerful form of communication of ideas and documentation of events. The evolution of technology has enabled anyone to become "an influencer" of ideas, a purveyor of narratives, or a curator of stories. Content creation these days is as easy as it is lucrative.

with a focus on
VISUAL CONTENT CREATION

The workshop will provide teenage and young adult participants opportunities to learn how to use the tools at their disposal to tell the stories that are important to them, thus creating and controlling narratives that shape and influence society.

THE SPEAKERS

Cary Grant Jr

Film & TV Producer
Napa, CA

Tony Drazan

Filmmaker &
Director
New York City, NY

Matthew Mixon

Media Consultant &
former CBS Producer
Milwaukee, WI

Registration is free for Collective Impact Community Based Organizations, including Running Rebels, Journey House, Operation Dream, Neighborhood House, Milwaukee Public Schools and One Hundred Black Men of Madison.

REGISTRATION

www.climbusa.org/go4it