

Anthony Cobb

The motto, "lift as you climb" is Anthony Cobb's life conviction - believing that we have a responsibility to help others on our journey. Anthony is a human resources executive that has held various leadership positions across manufacturing and retail organizations. Anthony is a native of Milwaukee, but currently lives in Portland, OR with his wife Jenna. No matter where he lives, he is dedicated to helping organizations achieve their mission and strategy; especially, organizations driven to improve equity and justice for all students.

